

Profile

Kevin Walsh
Managing Director, Renewable Energy

Kevin Walsh leads the Renewable Energy group at GE Energy Financial Services. Renewable Energy is a strategic growth initiative at Energy Financial Services, which has a strong record of investing in wind, solar, hydro, geothermal and biomass energy projects globally, having more than doubled its renewable energy portfolio since 2004 to more than $4 billion. Mr. Walsh expects to grow GE Energy Financial Services' investments in global renewable energy to $6 billion by 2010.

Mr. Walsh also serves on the Board of Directors of Greenhouse Gas Services, a GE AES venture. Created in 2007, Greenhouse Gas Services invests in and develops projects that reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and, from those and third-party projects, supplies real, independently verified GHG credits to companies that want to meet corporate emissions reduction targets or to offset greenhouse gas emissions from products and services. He is also on the Board of Directors of the Solar Energy Industries Association (SEIA).

Previously, Mr. Walsh was responsible for the management of Energy Financial Services' more than $19 billion global portfolio of all energy investments, as well as related portfolio sales and reinvestment.

Since joining the predecessor of GE Energy Financial Services, GE Structured Finance (SFG), in 1990, Mr. Walsh has held positions of increasing responsibility in Energy, Capital Markets, Industrial and eBusiness. In 1993 he was a Director in SFG's London office with responsibility for energy investments in assigned countries in the European and Southeast Asia Region. In 1995, he returned to the United States as Senior Vice President, Capital Markets, where he was responsible for debt arrangement and syndication in the Americas for various GE industrial businesses, including GE Energy. Beginning in 1997, he was named Managing Director, Paper and Forest Products Group. In 1999, he served as Managing Director, eBusiness for SFG, leading the business' efforts to web-enable its processes, build partnerships and alliances and make strategic e-commerce investments.

Mr. Walsh graduated cum laude from Fairfield University, where he received a B.S. in Business Management. He is a graduate of General Electric's Financial Management Program.

About GE Energy Financial Services

GE Energy Financial Services' experts invest globally with a long-term view, backed by the best of GE's technical know-how and financial strength, across the capital spectrum in one of the world's most capital-intensive industries, energy, to help their customers and GE grow. With US $19 billion in assets, GE Energy Financial Services is based in Stamford, Connecticut. In renewable energy, GE Energy Financial Services is growing its portfolio of more than US$4 billion in assets in wind, solar, biomass, hydro and geothermal power. For more information, visit www.geenergyfinancialservices.com.

About GE

GE (NYSE: GE) is Imagination at Work -- a diversified technology, media and financial services company focused on solving some of the world's toughest problems. With products and services ranging from aircraft engines, power generation, water processing and security technology to medical imaging, business and consumer financing, media content and advanced materials, GE serves customers in more than 100 countries and employs more than 300,000 people worldwide. For more information, visit www.ge.com.

CONTACT:

Christa Bowers
GE Energy Financial Services
(203) 961-2934